KEIR SURGICAL BECOMES MASTER DISTRIBUTOR OF QCLICKSMART PRODUCTS IN CANADA

October 2016 – As of September 19th, Keir Surgical Ltd. has been designated the master distributor of Qlicksmart products in Canada. Qlicksmart is an Australian manufacturing company that produces safety assurance and infection control products used in different medical fields. Keir Surgical has been distributing Qlicksmart products to customers for more than 15 years, and is proud to become the primary source of Qlicksmart products nationwide.

By becoming the master distributor of Qlicksmart in Canada, Keir Surgical is pursuing its mission of being Canada’s premier surgical products supplier, while also emphasizing the importance of safety for medical staff in the workplace.

“We are very excited to continue to work with Qlicksmart and provide Canadian healthcare providers with devices that will help prevent sharps injuries at work. We believe that placing an emphasis on ‘safety first’ will help to demonstrate Keir Surgical’s objective to source innovative products that offer better, safer ways to do work,” said Patrick Haney, President of Keir Surgical.

In the months to follow, Keir Surgical will be recruiting additional Qlicksmart sub-distributors in different regions of Canada to further develop business nationwide.
